

REVIEW OF APHS AND CRAWFORD HOUSE MUSEUM

Alstonville Plateau Historical Society was established in 2001 and Crawford House Museum was opened a couple of years later. When the museum was opened the committee of the time completed a procedure called the Standards Program which was run by Museums and Galleries in NSW. This program proved very beneficial to the success of the museum and our organisation. I believe it is now time to review our operations. With this in mind I would like you to help us by completing a survey giving your thoughts on our operation. This will help us point YOUR MUSEUM in the right direction in future years. It would be appreciated if you could complete the survey below and return to the museum by the end of November.

Survey (PNI)

P (Positive)	N (Negative)	I (Interesting)
Things You Like About APHS & Museum	Things You Don't Like About APHS & Museum	Suggestions to Improve APHS & Museum

Name: (Optional) : Contact:

If you would like to discuss any of the issues or suggestions with the committee you might like to leave your name and contact details. Your contributions will be greatly appreciated.

Ian Kirkland (President)